Fifteen years of progress
International leaders & trends

Editorial
The world has made remarkable progress in the last 15 years. The Cold War has ended, and the world has become more peaceful. The economy has grown, and the standard of living has improved. The environment has been protected, and the world has become more sustainable. The world has become more united, and the people of the world have become more aware of their common interests. The world has become more open, and the people of the world have become more free. The world has become more prosperous, and the people of the world have become more happy. The world has become more beautiful, and the people of the world have become more proud. The world has become more peaceful, and the people of the world have become more secure.
